

Financial Conflict of Interest Attestation

Authors whose manuscripts are submitted for consideration of publication in the Journal for Advancing Justice (journal) must declare all relevant sources of funding in support of the preparation of the manuscript. In addition, authors must reveal any potential financial conflicts of interest or other connections to the manuscript, direct or indirect, that might raise a question of bias in the work reported or the conclusions, implications, or opinions drawn therefrom. As an express condition of publication, authors whose manuscripts are submitted for publication to the journal must complete the following attestation to the best of their understanding and ability.

- I acknowledge that all financial contributions to or financial interests in the work being reported, including contributions "in kind," must be listed in the published manuscript.

_____ All funding sources and financial interests related to this manuscript are listed in the acknowledgments section of the manuscript.

_____ Additional funding sources or financial interests not noted in the manuscript include the following:

- Have any authors or co-authors, either directly or indirectly, received financial support of any kind from a government, charitable, academic, public, or private organization related to the authors' research or preparation of this manuscript?

Yes _____ No _____

If yes, identify the grant number(s), if applicable, under which such funding was received:

Describe all such forms and sources of government, public, or private funding support:

- Did any authors or co-authors of this manuscript receive consulting fees, honoraria, speaking fees, expert testimony fees, or other forms of financial support from entities that have a financial interest in the results or materials of this manuscript?

Yes _____ No _____

If yes, describe below:

- Are there any planned, pending, or awarded patents or comparable applications for intellectual property rights related to this work by any of the authors, co-authors, or their institutions?

Yes _____ No _____

Journal for Advancing Justice Financial Conflict of Interest Attestation

If yes, authors, co-authors or their institutions have a patent or comparable intellectual property interest related to this work, as described below:

The authors and co-authors attest that all declarable financial interests and relationships have been disclosed to the best of their knowledge, information and belief.

Signature of first or corresponding author:

Signature: _____ Printed Name: _____

Date: _____

___ Check if the first author is signing on behalf of all co-authors with their knowledge and approval.

Signatures of additional authors:

Signature: _____ Printed Name: _____

Date: _____

Signature: _____ Printed Name: _____

Date: _____

Signature: _____ Printed Name: _____

Date: _____

Signature: _____ Printed Name: _____

Date: _____

Signature: _____ Printed Name: _____

Date: _____

Signature: _____ Printed Name: _____

Date: _____